What's special about it?

While TED in Vancouver looks outward to humanity's future, TEDNext turns the lens inward. Because meaningful global change begins with personal clarity and courage.

At TEDNext, you'll not only shape your own evolution but join a community of changemakers creating powerful ripples across families, organizations and societies.

This isn't just about becoming your best self, it's about becoming the change agent our collective future needs.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a traditional Indigenous headband with colorful beads and a matching patterned jacket, is looking forward with a focused expression. She is surrounded by other people in a dimly lit setting, possibly a stage or event, with blue and purple lighting. The background is blurred, showing other attendees.

If you've ever wondered...

Do I challenge assumptions?

Can I expand as a leader?

Could I dream bigger?

What's next in my career?

You belong here.

At TEDNext's debut, bold voices like Malcolm Gladwell, Natasha Rothwell, Leopoldo Lopez, Franziska Trautmann, Molly Graham, Stephanie R. Yates-Anyabwile (and many more) sparked powerful conversations on leadership, freedom and creativity.

We built a community of emerging leaders driven by growth and connection. This year, we'll keep unpacking life's hardest questions and discovering what's next, together.
